U.S. Olympic Training Center, Colorado Springs, CO
www.usacycling.org

Speakers and presentations from different areas of the race community cover numerous topics, including:

- Caravan and motorcycle support
- Pit setup for road and mountain bike races
- Tool, equipment and supply needs
- Race equipment preparation
- Track, Road, MTB & Cross support
- Wheel components and building theory
- Wheel changes in competitive races
- Bike wash techniques
- Working and professional relationships between the mechanic and the athlete, coach, and soigneur.

Why come to the Clinic?

- A license is required to work at Olympic Trials, National Championships, and to work at USA Cycling training camps.
- Many corporate neutral support systems require the USAC Mechanics License.
- Licensed mechanics are covered under the USA Cycling insurance policy during their participation at sanctioned events.
- Network with other mechanics and industry leaders in this field
- Get an opportunity to become licensed official as well.
- Graduates have gone on to work for teams all over the world.
- Give your shop an advantage over competitors. Get your Race Mechanic License!

CLINIC COST: $300.00 Space limited. U.S. Citizens.

(covers housing, food, and learning materials)

NOTE: While some mechanical procedures are covered, this clinic will not teach you to be a bicycle mechanic. Participants are asked to have two years work experience as a bicycle mechanic.
